Foreword . . .

As Loyola Academy forges ahead in its history and tradition, we stop to ponder the past for a moment, and to try to envision the new things which the future holds in store.

Since the first graduating class of four members in 1911, continuing through forty-seven years on the Lake Shore campus, and beginning anew on the Wilmette campus, Loyola's traditions and educational goals remain the same. The program of study, successful for more than three hundred years, will continue now as it was then. It aimed at producing "the supernatural man who thinks, judges, and acts constantly and consistently in accordance with right reason illumined by the supernatural light of the example and teaching of Christ."

Beginning a new era, on a new campus, Loyola Academy seeks merely to relocate and not to change its traditions. The devotion and self-sacrifice of its faculty, the hard work and fine spirit of its students, the loyalties of its alumni will continue to make Loyola the same Loyola it has been since its foundation.

The theme of this year's Grad Prep will, therefore, seek to recount some of the memories of the past and preview the opening of the new era.

LOYOLA ACADEMY IN '57

CAMPUS, THIS 1957 GRAD PREP
IS DEDICATED

For nearly half a century the students of Loyola Academy have built up many enduring traditions. Although naturally our thoughts are largely of the new Loyola, to open next fall, we want no one to forget those who have sown the hardy traditions of study, good sportsmanship, and virtue which have grown to be the Loyola spirit. Transplanted to new soil, this healthy, vigorous spirit will continue to grow.

DUMBACH HALL, Loyola Academy's home for forty-seven years, was built in 1908. First classes began here in 1909.

From 1908, when Father Henry Dumbach, S.J., laid the cornerstone of the hall which bears his name to the present day, Loyola Academy has undergone a vast number of changes. But the important thing to remember is that these changes have been physical only — the ideal of educating the whole man is still being followed.

Dumbach Hall housed its class of its first eighty-eight students in September of 1908. In 1911, the first graduating class of four members received their diplomas.

As time rushed along the Academy grew larger. By 1923, the faculty residence and the gymnasium had been added, and the enrollment had risen to 469. Plans for moving and further expansion were blocked by the 1929 depression, when student enrollment dropped to a low of 293. With the revival of prosperity Loyola's class roster continued to grow until it reached the high of 800 in 1953.

Yet if Father Dumbach could revisit his school today, he would find it still guided by the same principles and method of study.

Put to Use

Changes Made... Another Campus

On Sunday afternoon, July 8, 1956, Loyola Academy entered a new era. Before a crowd of approximately 3000 parents, students, and friends of Loyola, ground was broken for the new school buildings at Lake Avenue and Edens Expressway in Wilmette.

Ceremonies began with the playing of the national anthem; following this, Father Gerasime Legris, S.J., took the rostrum to invoke God's blessing on the event. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John F. Neumann, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Wilmette, performed the liturgical rite of blessing the ground, and turned over the first spadeful of earth.

PRINCIPAL SPEAKER of the Ground-breaking Ceremonies on July 8, 1956, is the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John F. Neumann.

ANOTHER SPADEFUL of earth is turned by the Very Reverend James F. Maguire, S.J., president of Loyola University.

... Beginning

... A New Era

The new Loyola Academy, designed for 1500 students, will provide room for all the activities of a busy school. Besides the forty-three large classrooms, the faculty rooms, the student cafeteria, gymnasium, swimming pool, chapel, and library, there will be offices for the many clubs and extracurricular activities and outdoor recreation facilities for all sports on the campus.

EARLY WORK on the superstructure of the faculty residence wing: in this picture the floor has been poured, and forms are being prepared for additional concrete work.

ATHLETIC FIELDS and facilities, as proposed on the architects' model, will occupy a major portion of the twenty-five acre campus.

Loyola Academy's faculty realizes the changing educational needs of our changing times. And so, although the traditional Jesuit humanistic approach to education will remain unaltered, the new Academy buildings will provide the facilities for an increased scientific program and for courses in typing and mechanical drawing on the practical side.

Fr. R. F. Burnham, S.J., indicates the progress on administration building construction to Fr. P. J. Rice, S.J., a former Academy teacher.

ADMINISTRATION

From the original faculty of five, the Academy staff has grown to forty. The nearly doubled enrollment provided for on the new campus will require further additions to the faculty in years to come. Still the same guiding principles of Jesuit tradition motivate the staff; and the same interest in and self-sacrifice for the students direct all their activities, both in the classroom and in all activities.

CLASSICAL LANGUAGES . . .

Down through the ages, true education has meant familiarity with the great Latin and Greek authors. St. Ignatius of Loyola, St. Thomas Aquinas, and other great leaders and thinkers of the Church were all nurtured in the mighty thoughts and writings of Cicero, Virgil, and Homer.

Loyola Academy and the Jesuit schools throughout the world have always striven to bring this knowledge and culture of the ages to modern youth. Today, as in the past, Loyola Academy is inspiring American youth to high ideals by holding up the great achievements of the past for admiration and emulation in the light of Christian truth.

ENGLISH . . .

In his four years at Loyola Academy, the student becomes familiar with the greatest authors of English and American literature. Our language can boast writers like Shakespeare and Milton and Hopkins who are among the greatest the world has produced. The study of their works is not just an education, it is a source of enjoyment for later years.

Through a four-year integrated course in writing, the student learns correct and effective modes of formal and informal writing. All these things are studied to enable the Loyola graduate to impress his thought and ideals upon the world which he enters.

HISTORY AND SOCIOLOGY . . .

We learn to plan wisely for the future from a study of past mistakes and accomplishments. This holds true for nations as well as for individuals; and so a study of history will help the student understand the problems of the modern world. Also, a study of history helps the student break the narrow bounds of the present and expand his view to include all times and all peoples.

Sociology gives the student a view into the depth of the modern social structure, and helps him understand the problems he will meet later in life.

RELIGION . . .

Loyola Academy was not founded to teach its students merely how to appreciate great literature, merely how to study efficiently, or merely how to think more clearly. All of these things are good; all are products of a liberal high school education. But Loyola's special purpose is to impart this intellectual foundation in the light of Christian truth and morality; its aim is to produce men who will accomplish great things on earth, in the praise, reverence, and service of God. The thousands of successful graduates of Loyola are a credit to the Academy and to the Church.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS . . .

Atoms and electrons have become a vital interest for every modern teen-ager. Increased enthusiasm for mathematics, physics, and chemistry, has resulted.

Courses in math provide an excellent discipline for the training of a methodically sound and logical mind.

The physics and chemistry courses at Loyola give a basic training for work in an ever-widening field of endeavor in our modern atomic age.

ELECTROLYSIS OF WATER is explained by Mr. Roach to chemistry students Bob Jakob (left), Denis Dunne, and Jim Gately.

SPEECH AND MODERN LANGUAGES

The ancient Greek and Roman orators, together with masters of oratory of our own language and times, provide excellent models to help train Loyola students in effective writing and persuasive speaking. The speech courses at the Academy offer students practice in all types of speech and debate.

French and Spanish classes, besides providing the practical use of a modern language, offer to Loyola students an insight into the character and background of the modern French and Spanish-speaking peoples.

MR. ALOIS J. LESNIAK

Physical Education I, II, III, and IV, director of intramurals, assistant football and basketball coach.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

A sound mind in a sound body has been the aim of education since the time of ancient Greece. At Loyola, the development of the body is an important part of the educational program. However, the Academy realizes that a healthy body is not an end in itself, but rather a means to enable the mind to execute God's will more successfully.

Under the direction of expert instructors, all Loyola students during their high school careers have the opportunity to improve their swimming and to build up their bodies by indoor and outdoor games and calisthenics.

Although our eyes have been directed toward the new Academy campus and buildings, the many and varied extracurriculars of the old campus continue. These activities serve a valuable purpose in developing the ability to work with others and to carry out responsibilities.

... Activities

To "strengthen men spiritually and materially" is the primary aim of the Sodality. Through daily meditation, rosary, prayers, Mass, and Communion, the Sodalist develops his own spiritual life. Through the many Sodality activities he comes to the spiritual and material aid of others.

This year the outstanding feature of the senior Sodality's spiritual endeavors was the five-day retreat at Villa Redeemer at Barrington. Under the direction of the senior Sodality moderator, Father James A. Condon, S.J., the Sodality has also sponsored novenas, the October Rosary, May devotions, and many other spiritual activities around the school.

On the material side, the Sodality undertook a food drive at Thanksgiving for poor families in Chicago, a city-wide "Put Christ back into Christmas" campaign, and a Lenten clothes drive for the people of Korea.

SENIOR SODALITY OFFICERS: Fran McManus, treasurer, Dick Henderson, secretary, Jim Arimond, vice-prefect, and Don Parker, prefect.

Loyola Academy's junior Sodality also had a very active year. Five members went on a five-day retreat at Villa Redeemer. Such retreats are an important phase in the formation of a Sodalist in the Sodality way of life.

Under the direction of the moderator, Father Charles T. Conroy, S.J., the members of the junior Sodality have spurred their classmates on to bigger mission collections for Patna. The junior Sodality also took an active part in the Thanksgiving food drive and the Derby Day collection.

SODALITY

This has been a banner year at Loyola for the members of the sophomore Sodality. Under the able guidance of their moderator, Mr. John J. O'Callaghan, S.J., the sophomore Sodalists have devoted their work, play, and prayers to the Sodality goal of "Ad Jesum per Mariam." They have pursued this goal by means of retreats at Loyola and at Villa Redeemer, by attending daily Mass, and by receiving Communion. The sophomores also participated in numerous other projects and discussions.

Merit has its own rewards, even in this life. The sophomore Sodalists enjoyed themselves at two skating parties and several gym nights and socials.

MIMEOGRAPHING AD BLANKS for the "Put Christ in Christmas" drive, are Mr. J. J. O'Callaghan, S.J., moderator, and Dick Plante (left).

For the major part of the year the freshman Sodality candidates learned about the duties and privileges of the way of life they were to undertake. At the beginning of the year the freshman group numbered 172. The 1956-1957 membership constituted the largest freshman Sodality group in recent years. It was so large that the moderator, Mr. D. J. McGuire, S.J., had to divide it into three sections meeting on different nights.

Besides learning the rules and regulations of the Sodality, the members discussed at their weekly meetings ways to accomplish apostolic works. The freshmen sponsored a cleanup drive on bad literature and attended two days of recollection.

The year's activities have been an excellent preparation for reception into the regular Sodality next year.

ACOLYTES

For more than twenty-eight years the students of the Academy have served Mass for the faculties of both the Academy and the University. The tradition was carried on this year also, and with the same fine spirit as in the past.

Heedless of the weather and the early hour, the servers arrive at the Faculty Building and Chapel between 6:00 and 6:30, ready to serve their two Masses before returning to Dumbach Hall to do some last minute studying. This is a standard routine for the sixty-odd Loyolans who have volunteered their services.

Each team, serving for a week at a time, consists of nine boys and a captain. The moderator, Mr. Jules H. Baumer, S.J., has appointed Fran McManus, Jack Sweetman, Tom O'Keefe, Neil Palmer, Tom Urban, and John Riley as captains.

In addition to serving Mass, the acolytes serve Benediction after chapel talks and the honors convocations, and assist at the Stations of the Cross during Lent.

As a small reward on earth, these faithful servers were given several gym nights and a social. However, their greatest reward will come from Him whom they serve.

GLEE CLUB

This year, as in the past two, Loyola's Glee Club has done much to add fun and enjoyment to many Academy functions. Under the direction of Mr. William Krumberger, the club's forty-two members have spent many a night learning new songs and perfecting old ones.

The club performed at many of Loyola's activities, including the Mass of the Holy Ghost at the start of the school year, the honors convocations, First Friday devotions, and chapel talks throughout the year.

AT THE SCHOOL PLAY, the Glee Club sings the Navy Hymn just before the curtain opens.

The Glee Club has also entertained the mothers at many Mothers' Club meetings, has highlighted the Oratory Contest, and joined with the dramatic club to make the annual full-length play the success it was.

During the Christmas season, the club members brought joy and happiness to the sick at St. Francis Hospital in Evanston, and brought the Christmas spirit a little nearer to the aged folks at the rest home of the Little Sisters of the Poor. They also brought an apt close to the old year by singing at the New Year's Eve Holy Hour in the chapel. They will bring a fitting end to this scholastic year too, by singing at the senior commencement exercises on June 6, in St. Ignatius church.

CLASSICAL ACADEMY

This year saw the debut of a new campus organization, the Classical Academy. Mr. Richard M. Mackowski, S.J., the moderator, has set up a two-fold purpose for the group: to prepare the members for the Interscholastic Latin Contest, and to read the Greek and Roman classics.

The elite members of the Classical Academy, sophomores, juniors, and seniors with at least an eighty-five percent average in Latin, hold their weekly forum on Wednesday afternoon. Meetings consist of panel discussions, illustrated slide lectures, and the like.

Highlighting this year's activity has been a lecture on the "Principles of Oratory" by Fr. L. E. Henderson, S.J., of Loyola University, a talk on archeology by Fr. W. J. Garvey, S.J., a visit to the Chicago Museum of Natural History, and an archeological expedition to Starved Rock during the Easter holidays.

DRAMATIC CLUB

For the second straight year, Loyola Academy's production captured honors at the Chicagoland Dramatic Festival. This year's one-act play, Second Overture, on the basis of individual awards was an outstanding presentation among the twenty-one schools participating in the Twelfth Annual Festival. Under the direction of Mr. E. P. Petersen, S.J., four Loyola actors gained three medals and four scholarships at the presentation banquet. Don O'Meara, for his portrayal of the peasant Gregor Lirod, merited a gold medal and a scholarship. Both Peter Briesch, as the Russian Commissar Charash, and Michael Wiegand, as the Russian Captain Krassin, received silver medals and scholarships for their excellent characterizations. Dennis Reilly, as the prisoner Adam, earned an alternate scholarship.

"The Order of the Palm"

This year's annual school play, The Order of the Palm, was an adaption of Joshua Logan and Frank Heggen's Mr. Roberts. For the performances on April 5 and 6 there were two full houses. The show was directed by Mr. John J. O'Callaghan, S.J., Dramatic Club Moderator. The Loyola Dramatic Club presented a production worthy of its name and reputation. About seventy-five boys contributed to the effort.

Mr. Roberts, the cargo officer who wants to be transferred to a warship, was excellently portrayed by Marty Hogan. An admirable job was done by Ron Michelotti, playing the captain of a cargo ship that never saw battle action. Jack Fournier as Ensign Pulver was a laugh and a half through the entire play. Phil Murtaugh did himself proud in the quiet, un-concerned part of Doc.

DEBATING

During the year, the Rostrum was host to twenty-one schools in the eighteenth annual Senior Debate Tournament and made trips to such places as Milwaukee, Racine, and Philadelphia. Under the direction of Father Robert A. Pollauf, S.J., Loyola maintained its rating of a second place in the Illinois District of the NFL.

Again this year the Loyola sophomore debaters waged successful campaigns at two student congresses, several forensic meets, round-robins, and numerous debate tournaments, under the direction of Mr. Richard M. Mackowski, S.J.

Directed by Mr. John E. Beez, S.J., the freshman debaters participated in ten debate tournaments and tied for first place in one of them. The freshmen won more than 130 of their nearly 200 individual debates.

THE TORCH CLUB

This year the Torch Club, Loyola's spirit-building organization, experienced one of its most successful seasons.

In December the club admitted sixteen new men who were chosen by their classmates, the faculty, and the members themselves for their outstanding school spirit.

All the sock-hops after the games, pep rallies, and busses for the away games were the work of the Torch Club's forty-five members and their moderators, Father E. F. Mangold, S.J., and Mr. J. J. Boyle, S.J. The Torch Club also scouted future Loyola stars in their grammar school football and basketball tourneys.

On May 10, the club rounded out its season with the famous Tulip Trot directed by Mr. R. J. Lab, S.J., assistant moderator.

THE PREP

In the past three years, under the direction of Mr. Paul V. Robb, S.J., the Loyola Academy Prep has risen to new heights in the field of high school journalism. The Prep has won numerous journalistic awards, including the All-Catholic journalism presentation this past year.

In publishing the Prep, the 1956 staff, under its editor-in-chief, Jim Arimond, tried to hit a medium between the editorializing of Time and the straightforward news reporting of a daily paper.

The 1957 Prep staff, under Editor-in-Chief Ray Mitchell, has taken over a top-notch paper and will do its best to keep Loyola's Prep in the top bracket where it should be.

THE GRAD PREP

This year's Grad Prep has undertaken a twofold job: to summarize the current year as well as to capture the high hopes and ambitions of the next years at the new location in Wilmette.

Since all eyes this year are focused on the Academy's new modern buildings, the Grad Prep has also incorporated the "forward look" in its design. A modernistic approach and futuristic style have been followed from cover to cover. Furthermore, the addition of sixteen more pages has enabled the Grad Prep to give increased coverage to all school activities.

POSTER CLUB

The colorful posters which caught the attention of the student body so often on Monday mornings were the work of Loyola's Poster Club. The many fresh ideas on the posters this year invited students to attend games, skating parties, and other events, as well as supported various school activities and drives.

This small group worked to combine ideas and skills into appealing compositions. Thus it acted in two ways: as advertising agent for activities and booster of school spirit.

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club had two main aims this year: to acquaint its members with the basic principles and workings of radio and to prepare them to take their amateur radio transmitter license examination. Under the supervision of the club's moderator, Mr. Edward M. Nemeth, S.J., beginners received instruction in the elementary theories of radio from the officers. In addition members of the club studied circuit diagrams and built radio transmitters; some even worked on high fidelity amplifiers for their own enjoyment.

This year the club members completed work on a new, more powerful, 150-watt transmitter which will bring the club's call letters, W9CXZ, to other amateur radio operators in other lands across the world.

SHUTTER CLUB

The expansion of photographic facilities and added service to other activities are the major accomplishments of this year's Shutter Club. Moderating the club this year is Mr. Edward M. Nemeth, S.J., the third moderator to maintain the special service unit. From its members, service is maintained for the Prep, Grad Prep, and many other activities. Constant improvement in techniques is assured by periodical lectures and films where new tips and theories are presented for practical use. Field trips and photo contests spur members on to better pictures and give practical in-the-field knowledge. Through these experiences, this year's Shutter Club has benefitted its members and benefitted Loyola.

FRENCH CLUB OFFICERS Jim Arimond, secretary-treasurer, Fred Vukovich, president, and Vic Vitullo, vice-president, go over the minutes of the last meeting with their moderator, Mr. J. E. Beez, S.J.

THE FRENCH CLUB

C'est bien dommage si vous ne parlez pas français! The French Club, now seven years old, has as its primary purpose the encouragement of French conversation among its members.

This year under the direction of a new moderator, Mr. John E. Beez, S.J., Le Cercle Francais meets every Wednesday night at 7:45 in the senior lounge. At the meetings the members improve their French by reading French magazines, singing French songs, and conversing in French. Usually some member gives a speech, or discours, in French. Occasionally French movies, usually travelogues, are shown.

Among the Club's activities are socials, gym-nights, and the publication of a French newspaper, Le Vagabond.

FATHERS' CLUB

The Jesuit goal — "Educate the Whole Man" — is achieved at Loyola because the Jesuit influence does not stop when class is over. It continues in the home because of the mutual interest created between parent and school through the activities of the Fathers' Club. The Fathers' Club meetings with the faculty, the new Academy fund drive, the day of recollection, and the fathers' and sons' Communion breakfast all aid the father in the education of his son.

MOTHERS' CLUB

Under the able leadership of Mrs. Martin E. Hogan, president, and Father John E. Flanagan, S.J., moderator, the Academy mothers were enabled to become better acquainted with the faculty and school activities. They met the faculty as speakers and guests and the school through glimpses of various activities. Social get togethers among the members were provided by the annual Fall and Spring Card Parties; the annual day of recollection provided religious instruction and renewal of spiritual motivation.

CHEERLEADERS

Athletics at Loyola both provide relaxation from the tensions of study and develop healthy bodies and energy reserves for balanced study. On the new campus larger and more modern facilities will be available for athletic activities of all kinds.

The 1956 varsity football squad, lacking nothing save experience, gave a good account of themselves this season.

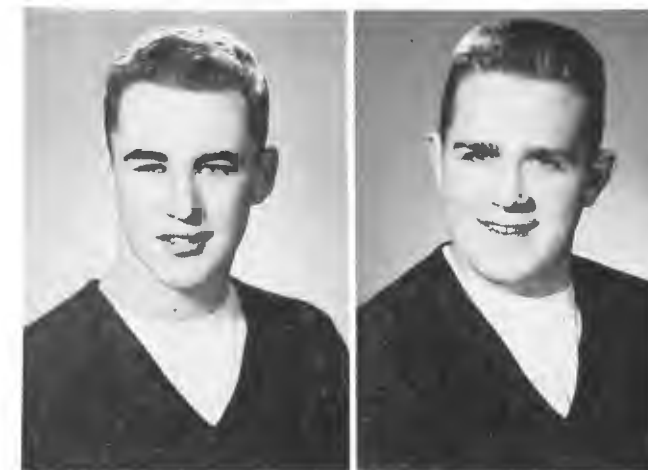

In the team's only pre-season encounter the Ramblers rolled over St. Pat's and gave indication of doing well in league play, but from the outset of their rough schedule they were plagued by injuries.

Loyola outplayed Weber in the first league game, but the Red Horde pushed across two quick touchdowns in the last six minutes to emerge victorious.

After the first two heartbreaking defeats the squad hit a low in morale which, coupled with injuries to key men in the following games, brought an anti-climax to a disastrous season. But this was offset by the fact that the Ramblers were a team of true spirit, sportsmanship, and spunk which is traditional with Academy elevens.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

This year's freshman football team had an exceptionally good record of four wins and two losses. The squad's captains were John Breen and Art Kruggel. Under the expert coaching of Mr. Jude J. Boyle, S.J., and Mr. Jules H. Baumer, S.J., this team merited the praise of all Loyola with its victories and continual fighting spirit.

The team's only losses were to a strong Junior Varsity and to an experienced Gordon Tech team. They out-played St. George; whipped St. Ignatius twice; and beat the best the South Side had to offer, St. Rita.

These victories were not easily won, however. They were the result of long hours of practice and tedious drills.

As always in freshman football we try to look to the future. It is the general opinion that Loyola will have a city championship in the next three years, and the class of '60 is out to prove it.

The 1956-57 heavyweight basketball team had height, experience, and spirit. The big men on the team were Burke, Hitzelberger, Kelly, Quinlan, and Duick. Know-how was furnished by Jansen, Kearney, and McIntosh. Whalen, Madden, and Reynolds added spirit. With the help of these stars the Ramblers won the North Section championship and placed in the pre-league tournament. The pre-season games showed that Loyola would be a power in the North Section race. We gave further proof of this by coming in fourth in the De Paul Christmas tourney. After the first five games of league play it was evident that we were shooting for the North Section title. We suffered our first defeat in league competition in the last game of the first round. But we were still in first place and remained there until the last game was won.

We entered the play-offs and won the first game by a narrow margin. In the second play-off game we were defeated by St. Elizabeth, who later won the city championship.

All congratulations to the team on its fine season!

Bob Jansen (6) looks anxiously on for the decision of jump between Pat Kearney (22) and Denny Burke (10) and De Paul player.

Even though hampered by inexperience of team members and graduation of former stars, Loyola's lightweights still have shown spirit and drive which ranks them among champions. Senior Bob Petersen led the team with deadly shooting and brilliant floor play. Hank Mawicke, the only other senior on the squad, usually got his share of the team total, besides hitting a large portion of his free throws.

Loyola's lights were sparked by the freshman sensation Joe Mandarino, who was often high point man. Junior Bob Searles did his part too, by contributing a fine shooting eye. Mickey O'Bryan played smart basketball, taking advantage of his opponents' mistakes. Another of Loyola's juniors, Jim Brady, helped the team with his spirit and ball-handling. Other standouts on the squad were Dan McSween and Burke Smith, who have displayed great potential for next year.

The whole squad is to be congratulated for its tireless efforts. Fine coaching urged the lightweights onward through savage competition to become champions in spirit.

The production of fine swimming teams has become synonymous with Loyola Academy. Again under the watchful eye of coach Don Chalmers, both the senior and junior teams posted sterling records.

Teams from St. Leo, St. Ignatius, St. George, and Mount Carmel fell to defeat at the hands of the senior team. This year's squad once again represented the school without shame. The only teams which defeated the Ramblers were St. George and Fenwick (twice). Thus the final record stood at eight wins and three losses.

Long and tedious hours of practice were the key to the team's success. From the beginning of the season in early October until the end of it in mid-March, the team members practiced after school and on holidays. They put themselves in top condition and as a result captured second place in the Catholic city meet.

CROSS COUNTRY

Loyola's hope for a championship cross-country team seemed bright at the beginning of this year's season. The senior team defeated all but two of its Catholic opponents in individual meets. Plagued by injuries, the team was able to do no better than fifth in the championship meet. Standouts on the team were medalists Al Boerschinger, Terry Leonard, Bill Hall, and John Egan. The season marked the debut of Loyola's new track coach, Mr. William J. Kohler.

Under the leadership of Mr. William J. Kohler, coach, Loyola initiated a successful track season by winning the Daily News Relays on March 16, in the Chicago Stadium. It was the first time in the twenty-one-year history of the Relays that Loyola has won. Gold medal winners were Bill Hall, Terry Leonard, Al Boerschinger, John Egan, John Roemer, and Tom Cerwin.

As this book goes to the printers, the team faces an ambitious schedule of nine outdoor meets. Hopes are high for a really top-notch championship team.

TRACK

TENNIS

The Loyola Academy tennis team led by its captain, Hal Burke, has achieved notable results in its first competitions, defeating St. George 5:1 and St. Mel 5:1. The schedule ahead includes meets with Fenwick and St. Ignatius and rematches with all four. According to Father Walter O. Crane, S.J., the tennis moderator, St. Ignatius is the team to beat, and if the team is successful in doing so, it has an excellent chance of taking the city championship.

On May 15, as this book was on the presses, the junior players edged out Fenwick to take the Junior Championship of the Catholic League. On May 16, the senior team captured second place in the Catholic City Championship.

GOLF

With the coming of the first thaw this spring the senior and junior golf teams were out on the course trying to better last year's record. Last year the junior golf team won the Catholic League championship, led by Bob Searles, who was runner-up to the low scorer. This year the senior team of Dick Geimer, Mose Glynn, Tom Reynolds, and Paul Ohlwein will be helped by the addition of some of the members of last year's championship junior team.

The Loyola golf teams have always been regarded as top challengers. At the time this book goes to the presses, Loyola seems to have a good chance to place first again. Mr. Robert J. Lab, S.J., the golf moderator, says that this could very well be another championship year.

Teachers could accomplish nothing if their students lacked industry and cooperation. The high scholastic reputation which Loyola Academy enjoys testifies to the quality of its students. Next year the expanded facilities of the new Academy campus will provide space for additional courses and a more varied program of studies.

William J. Wendt

The faculty and students of Loyola Academy wish to express their deep sympathy to the parents of William Wendt, a freshman of class 1 C, who was killed in an automobile accident on March 2, 1957. Bill was a fine student and a true friend. We will always remember Bill with his warm and happy grin.
